Local Child Wins Court Accident Suit Happened Here In 1940

Eight year old Rosemary Mrozcek, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Mrozcek of Maple street, was awarded $2,208 in superior court by a jury last Monday and her father received an award of $1,229.16 to pay expenses incurred when the child was struck by an automobile driven by William E. Craig of Mattawan, N. J., and owned by the New York Auction Co. on Main street in this town, on October 23, 1940.

The suit had been pending for some time as unsatisfactory settlement figures had been offered. In the accident Rosemary, according to testimony at the trial, sustained a double fracture of her leg and a broken arm. She was in the Franklin County hospital for a long time and our citizens were much interested in the young child. The case was heard before Judge Frank J. Donahue and his charge to the jury was made Monday morning. Joseph T. Bartlett was attorney for the plaintiff. Dr. Allen H. Wright, Miss Ruth Hawkins, the parents, and Frederick C. Chapin were among the witnesses heard.

Seminary Seniors Observe Their Class Day and Enjoy Hotel Banquet

Despite unfavorable weather last Wednesday marked the observance of Class Day for the Seniors of Northfield Seminary. Members of the Senior Class spent the morning visiting with classmates and going on sight-seeing tours of the Chateau, the Birthplace, and the Youth Hostel. Light rains throughout the day failed to dampen the spirits of the girls, and the picnic originally planned for Murray Farm was turned into an indoor affair in the Skinner Gymnasium. Following a picnic lunch the traditional Class Day ceremony of reading and Class Will and Prophecy and the awarding of prizes for the Class Who's Who was held, and the girls joined in a lively program of games and singing.

In the evening the Senior Banquet, given by the Trustees of The Northfield Schools, was held at the Northfield Hotel. Seated at the speakers' table were President and Mrs. William E. Park, Miss Mira B. Wilson, principal of the Seminary; Miss Florence Lyon, Miss Jeanette Daboll, Mr. and Mrs. Ambert G. Moody, Miss Marietta Tower, Senior Class teacher; Miss Victoria Freeman, Miss Madonna McKinley, Miss Jean Kenway, Miss Natalie Fox, Senior Class President; and the Misses Jean Lindsay and Ruth Russell, Valedictorians of the class.

During the banquet President Park gave a few words of welcome on behalf of the Trustees and there were brief speeches by Miss Wilson and Miss Tower. Miss Madeline Sherman, Class Historian and Poet, read the Class History and Poem. The Class Oration was delivered by the Misses Lindsay and Russell. This is the first time in many years that there have been two Valedictorians in the Senior Class. Informal singing of Senior songs, songs to honoraries, and songs to the Trustees was led by Polly Tringa, Class Song Leader.

With the registration of motorists for gas rationing by the teachers of the public school, and the issuance of cards according to the required necessities of each, last week, the matter passed into the jurisdiction of the local rationing board and they held hearings last Friday and Saturday evenings at the Town Hall.

The total registrations in Northfield were as follows: A cards, 226; B-1 cards, 60; B-2 cards, 72; B-3 cards, 203; and X cards, 28. Ration cards are effective for the stated supply of gas allotted to each until July 1st.

Arrangements have been completed by the Memorial Day Committee for its observance in the usual manner on Saturday, May 30. The parade led by Commander F. Warren Whitman of the American Legion as marshal, will start at 9:45 o'clock in the morning, with the decoration of the G. A. R. tablet at Alexander hall and the dedication of the new flag pole. Headed by the Greenfield High School Band, under the direction of William F. Jeffs, the parade will proceed to Center cemetery, where the memorial service will be held. After the service the march will be resumed to the Town Hall for the decoration of the World War tablet. If the day is rainy the service will be held in the Town Hall instead of at the cemetery. The order of service begins with an invocation by Rev. Edward C. Dahl, the singing of "America" by the assembly, a reading of the Northfield Honor Roll by Harold Bigelow, singing of selections by school children directed by Mrs. L. P. Goodspeed; reading of Lincoln's Gettysburg address by William Shattuck; music by the band; address by Rev. Kenneth R. Named Conservators For Gas And Rubber

For the purpose of making every effort to conserve gasoline and rubber, Chairman Fred A. Holton of the Selectmen has named a committee for Northfield, in compliance with a request from the Federal government. This committee consists of Joseph W. Field, Chairman and Administrator, Luman A. Barber, Gordon G. Buffum, George M. Leonard and A. E. Franz, all of whom have accepted the responsibility. This committee will make every effort to facilitate transportation by bus, or capacity loads of private cars for war workers. To arrange for the "stagger system" of employment and to check abuses of transportation.

It is also likely that registrations and rationing will be checked as cars are rationed for gas for definitely stated purposes and not for unlimited use.

Dr. Jackson To Retire From Mount Hermon After Commencement

A farewell reception was held last Tuesday evening in the Social Hall in honor of Dr. and Mrs. Nelson A. Jackson, who retires in June after a teaching career at Mount Hermon school of 34 years. Dr. David R. Porter, headmaster, and Roy R. Hatch spoke of the faithful service of the Jacksons, who reach retirement age. A memory book containing letters from friends was presented to the Jacksons.

An L.L.D. was awarded to Mr. Jackson a week ago by his Alma Mater, Hillsdale College, Michigan, which he attended two years. His A. B. was gained at Bates and his A. M. at Columbia. After graduation, Dr. Jackson taught at Lebanon, N. H., and then seven years at Keuka College in the department of mathematics. It was at Keuka that the Jacksons were married.

Then followed ten years at Friends' Academy, where Dr. Jackson was headmaster. In 1918 the two came to Mount Hermon to be head of Crossley Hall, housing 300 students. Here they resided for six years. In 1934 after the tragic death of Headmaster Elliott Speer, Dr. Jackson was appointed one of a Committee of Three to manage the school until the headmaster, Dr. Porter, was elected. He was also head of the mathematics department.

In the new administration he became director of scholarship, a post he has held ever since. Here he has been in charge of the curriculum, school records, and this year is academic adviser to the seniors. He has been president of the Connecticut Valley Mathematics Association, and has read papers to its sessions. At the Alumni gathering two weeks ago, Dr. Jackson was presented the Alumni Award for distinguished service. Both Mrs. Jackson and Dr. Jackson have been very active in the work of the Mount Hermon church, serving as deacon and president of the missionary society. Mrs. Jackson has taught in the English Department ever since she came to the Hill, and has made herself famous for her literary reviews of books at the Ladies Literary Society. They will be at home at Keuka Park, New York, after July 1.

Taylor Appreciates

Robert N. Taylor, superintendent of schools, as local rationing registration officer, desires through the Press to thank the citizens of Northfield for their splendid cooperation with the teaching staff during the past two weeks of the war rationing registration. The work was new to all but by patience and good humor, made what might have been a tedious task into a pleasant interlude. "I myself feel better acquainted with many through this work. I know we have all profited by the experience and in the realization that we are doing a small part toward winning the war," said Mr. Taylor.

"To principals and teachers, I say WELL DONE. You were given, in addition to your regular work, a difficult task. You were tired, yet not once did I hear a single complaint. You have made a worthwhile contribution to the war effort. I thank you," so said Mr. Taylor.

Get Tire Permits

The local rationing board granted certificates for obtaining motor tires during last week, as follows: John Galvis, 1 tire, 1 tube, obsolete, truck; William Zabko, 2 tires, retreads; Leon Dunnell, 2 tires, 2 tubes, obsolete; Rollin Shearer, 2 tires, 2 tubes, truck; Charlotte Shearer, 2 tires, 2 tubes, retreads.

Powell and a large number of local women in charge. From the Russian Relief organization in Boston will come Russian carved and painted boxes, bowls and trays, spoons and wooden toys; from the British War Relief will come Churchill souvenirs, cook books, purses, bags and other articles. There will also be on sale English teapots brought here by the Royal Navy last year, and irreplaceable David Windsor china.

There will be a red, white and blue table on which may be found many sundry articles all suitable for gifts of all kinds. There will also be a "white elephant" sale. Refreshments of sandwiches, jams, jellies, and punch will be offered. There will be a collection of good clothing available and a Victrola and records is offered. Profits of the sale, exclusive of the special relief tables, will go to the work of Dr. Ida Scudder for hospitalization in India. It is hoped that there will be a general acceptance of the invitation to all to attend and assist in the effort for which much preparation has been made. The whole event will be a "garden party" on the beautiful lawn of Green Pastures, conveniently located and within walking distance for most folks.

Seminary-Hermon Speakers On Sunday

The speaker at Northfield Seminary next Sunday will be Dr. Robert M. Russell, founder and principal of the Russell Ranch School in Tucson, Arizona. Morning service in Sage Chapel will be at 11 a. m. "My wife is a very capable woman."
"There's no doubt of it."
"Yes, she can get home 15 minutes ahead of me and look as if she had been there all day."

An electrician charged with assault and battery was standing before the judge.

Judge: "What is your name, occupation, and what are you charged with?"

Prisoner: "My name is I. C. Sparks. I am an electrician, and I am charged with battery."
Judge: "Officer, put this man in a dry cell."

The old man in the theatre dropped something and was making frantic efforts to recover it when a woman next to him asked what he had lost.
"A caramel," the old man replied.

"You don't mean to tell me," the woman said, "you are making all this fuss over a caramel?"
"Yes," came the reply, "my teeth are in it."

Two will die as many must, And fitly dust will welcome dust; But dust has nothing to do with one— She dies as soon as her dream is done.

WINTER CALLERS

I know a host of wild-wood things In winter when the blizzard brings The jays and chickadees to share The crumbs I scatter here and there

When in and out and to and fro Inquisitive little creatures go Crowding around the very door They were so cautious of before.

A doe slips near the garden fence In unaccustomed confidence; A fox, more curious than shy, Comes out to watch me trudging by.

How pleasant that the snow and sleet Make friendly paths for timid feet.

And, though the town is miles away, New neighbors visit every day. Sara King Carleton, In Christian Science Monitor.

The last Diphtheria Immunization Clinic was held Saturday, May 16th. Twenty-eight school children were inoculated, and twenty-nine pre-school children, making a total of fifty-seven children immunized this spring in the clinic.

This Friday evening the members of the Congregational Church will hold "family night" in the vestry beginning at 7 o'clock. There will be a special entertainment and all are invited to attend.

ROUND TOP

I came to this hill to watch my world—
The rising river gleamed among green fields.
White arms of birches, bending in the breeze,
Waved last farewells before the summer sun
Disguised them with the leaves of other trees.
The scarlike smoke of valley rose high
To meet the gold and purple shafts of light,
The peace and calm of one sweet hour, all mine,
Brought faith and hope, while the day held back the night.

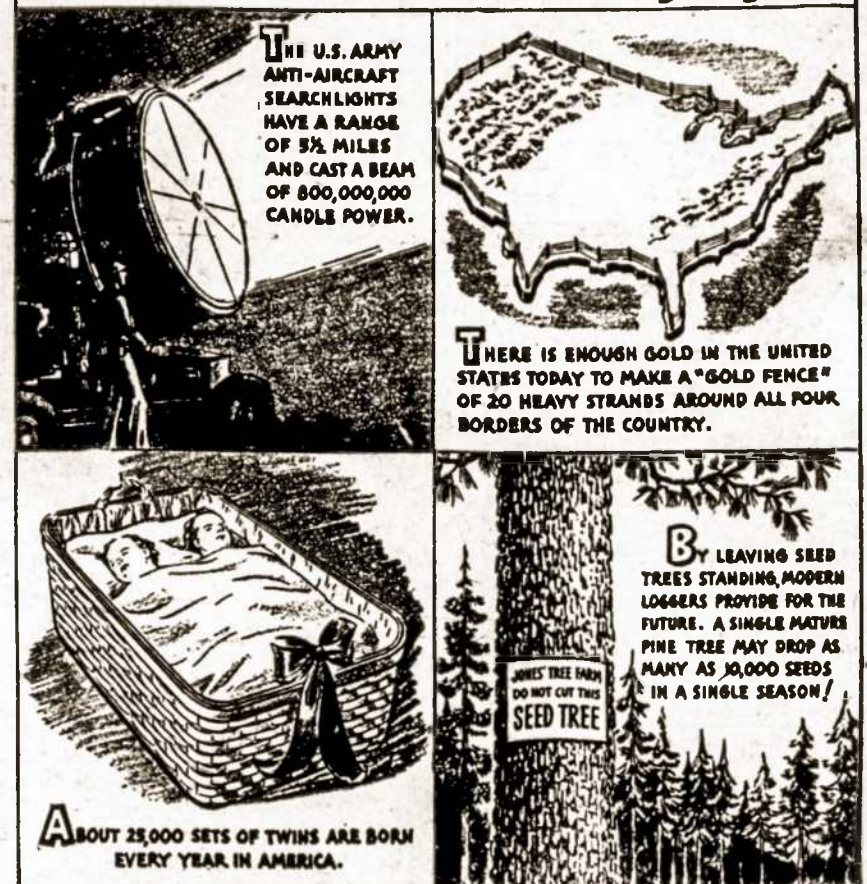

I came to this hill and forgot my world—
"Dear God, when days of war are done, bring home
The boys we love, out there in tank, in plane,
In ships that cross the sea! Turn back their steps!
Once more let them the ways of peace regain!
If some should hear Thee proudly calling 'Come,'
Their souls set free! No evil let them fear!
Show them that death's a little, simple thing,
Forgotten soon, when Thou, dear Lord, art near!"

Affable Butcher: "I trust, madam, that you liked the sausages."
"Well, I must admit," replied the customer acidly, "they were not quite so bad as they were tainted."

(Makes about 12 six-ounce glasses)
5 cups juice
3 1/2 cups of sugar
3/4 cups of light corn syrup
2 boxes powdered fruit pectin

Measure sugar and corn syrup into dry dish and set aside until needed. Measure juice into a 6- to 8-quart saucepan and place over hottest fire.

Add powdered fruit pectin, mix well, and continue stirring until mixture comes to a hard boil. At once add in sugar and corn syrup, stirring constantly. Continue stirring, bring to a full rolling boil, and boil hard 1/4 minute.

A Salad For Spring

By BETTY BARCLAY

In the Spring a housewife's fancy lightly turns to... SALADS. Naturally, salads are enjoyed the year round — but they are particularly popular as the weather becomes milder and the body requires less "fuel." So salute Spring with an inviting, healthful fruit salad.

Serve a service man a salad the next time he is on furlough and you will provide him with a rare treat. Those military men of ours receive good wholesome food, but of course Army cooks cannot take the time to prepare too many "fancy" dishes. Therefore, a "dainty" like the one below will be heartily welcomed. Incidentally, it will be appreciated by your family and your guests as well.

Orange Frosted Grape Salad
1 tablespoon gelatin
2 tablespoons cold water
1/4 cup orange juice, heated
1/4 cup orange juice, unheated
1/4 cup sugar
1 tablespoon lemon juice
1 cup orange pieces
1/4 cup seedless grapes
1/4 cup sliced fresh peaches

Orange sections
Frosted grapes
Soften gelatin in water 5 minutes. Dissolve in the heated orange juice. Cool. Add the unheated orange juice, lemon juice and sugar. Chill. When slightly thickened add orange pieces, grapes and sliced peaches. Pour into individual molds; chill until firm. Unmold and garnish with orange sections and clusters of frosted grapes. (Dip bunches of grapes in slightly beaten egg white, then in granulated sugar. Spread on paper to dry.) Serve with Lemon Mayonnaise. (Serves 4.)

Celtuce — A Visitor from China

By BETTY BARCLAY

There may be "nothing new under the sun" but each year it is possible to place upon our dinner tables at least one food that is new to most of us.

This year it is Celtuce. It's not a new vegetable, for our Chinese allies have been raising it near the border of Tibet for untold decades. But to those of us who have not visited China, this is a new table delicacy. Because it combines the uses and flavors of celery and lettuce, it will be known as Celtuce when it appears on our tables.

Four years ago the first seeds arrived in this country from China. David Burpee, seedman-president of the W. Atlee Burpee Co., Philadelphia, developed them on his farms near Philadelphia and in California. The vegetable was sent to dozens of leading dietitians. They prepared it, smacked their lips in a modest manner — and pronounced it "good." This year Celtuce will be grown in thousands of gardens. Ten years from now it will be a popular staple and no longer a novelty.

West Northfield and South Vernon

Owing to a change in time of the gathering of news many items from West Northfield and South Vernon are omitted this week.

Miss Tizah Sweet of Vernon has been appointed public health nurse in the towns of Putney, Dummerston, Halifax, Guilford, and Vernon, to succeed Miss Eleanor Wallace, who resigned to join the nursing staff of the army.

Certificates for retreads recently given by the Brattleboro district rationing board includes Mrs. Irene Smead, school bus driver, and Walter Bruce, war worker.

The Ladies' Circle of the Vernon Union Church recently voted not to serve suppers during the ensuing year. Instead, each member is to contribute one dollar a month. Quilts will be tied this summer, to be sold later. The next meeting will be in the vestry, May 27.

Mrs. D. E. Houghtalin of Springfield is spending a week at the Vernon home.

Miss Vera Vaughan has sufficiently recovered from her recent illness to resume her work at the postoffice.

Mrs. Eva Stoddard of West Brattleboro was a recent visitor at the home of her brother, Jay E. Johnson. She is a former resident of South Vernon.

Other speakers were Rev. Dr. Douglas Horton of New York, secretary of the General Council of Congregational and Christian Churches; the Rev. Dr. Walter W. Van Kirk of the Federal Council of Churches; President Mildred McAfee of Wellesley College; the Rev. Dr. Hugh Vernon White, secretary of the American Board of Commissioners for Foreign Missions, and Clarence C. Beasley of the Boston Y. M. C. A. staff.

The Northfield Congregational Church was represented by its minister and several members.

Traveled By Bike

Monroe Smith set the pace for a form of travel that may become very common in the near future. After an AYH Rally in Providence, R. Even at night he found the roads not too crowded.

Here's What You Can Do In HOME REMODELING! REPAIRING! BUILDING!

Remodeling work where the cost of labor and materials is less than $500.

NEW BUILDING

Any building begun by April 9, 1942, requires no permit to complete, regardless of cost. All other new houses must cost less than $6,000, be in a defense area, and have a permit.

COMMERCIAL OR INDUSTRIAL

No permit is required up to $5,000. This includes cost of labor and materials.

AGRICULTURAL CONSTRUCTION

No permit is required up to $1,000 (except houses) for new constructions or repairs.

War-time regulations have been issued recently regarding the use of building materials in certain fields. We, as lumber dealers, know how important and necessary these regulations are, THEY SHOULD BE CLEARLY UNDERSTOOD. The government does not wish to stop all private building. These regulations are issued only to eliminate non-essential use of materials.

REPAIRING OR MAINTENANCE

There is no cost limit on necessary repairs such as a leaky roof, cracked ceilings, new floors, or any other work that does not change the design of the building.

REMODELING

This means additions (changes in design of building), such as new porches, or conversion of single homes into multiple dwellings. No permit is necessary for all such.

PRAYER AND RADIO

If radio's slim fingers
Can pluck a melody
From night and toss it over
A continent or sea;

If the paled white roses
Of a violin
Are blown across a mountain
Or a city's din;

If songs, like crimson roses
Are culled from thin blue air;
Why should mortals wonder
If God hears prayer?

SALVAGING THE SCRAPS

The public have done and are doing a good job on salvaging waste materials, but just now, no more waste paper can be used as the market is flooded and there is more paper waste than the mills can use. The local committee has been so advised and the press and the radio have commented upon the fact. However, Chairman Birdsall of the Northfield committee urges people not to destroy any waste paper but to accumulate it until later when it can be gathered as the need is apparent. There is a real need of scrap metal material and every reader of this paper is urged to gather the waste of iron, brass, copper, rags and rubber and sell it or give it away so that the government can be assisted in its manufacturing efforts. These items are needed badly, and the local committee believe our citizens will play their part.

MORE MEN NEEDED

From all indications there will be a shifting of 12,000,000 men to new jobs either in the armed forces or on war production by the last of this year. The government means business and this is a total all out war and the problems of man power must be solved. Selective Service Director Hershey says that men must be

"upgraded" and there is no job for any man in ordinary business to hold him, if he is needed for war effort. So don't be surprised when men are called from present occupations and put on the payroll of the government in war service. Our community is small, and already a large number of our men have gone "forth", but there will be many more. How desolate will we be of man-power.

THE X DEGREE

So much comment has accrued with the public over the high percentage of X cards for gasoline rationing that the limelight of publicity is to be thrown upon them. Holders of such cards will be subject to severe scrutiny and local rationing boards will check up, with a questionnaire going to each holder in which five pertinent questions will be asked. State Administrator Parkman asks that publicity be withheld for a few days of all holders of X cards until the list has been revised, as in some areas many will be withdrawn.

Know Massachusetts by State Planning Board

DO YOU KNOW THAT...

At the beginning of the Revolutionary War the area that now comprises the City of Boston had only a population of 6,025. Only 21 of the 43 cities and towns now comprising Metropolitan Boston existed then and the population of the entire Metropolitan area was only 33,626, compared with 1,980,221 as shown by the census in 1940. . . . Restriction of automobile speed in Massachusetts so far this year appears to have saved as many lives as have been lost by the armed forces from this State. . . . The 1940 census showed 9,290 telephone operators employed in Massachusetts, of whom only 492 were men. It also reported 932 railroad conductors. . . . Marthas vineyard and Nantucket are planning for the vacation season as usual, with the customary steamboat schedule. . . . The total of check transactions in Boston during April amounted to $1,615,247,000, an increase of 9 per cent over April a year ago. . . . Welfare expenditures in Massachusetts during the month of June 1941, including old age pensions, general relief and aid to dependent children, amounted to $4,094,825 or an average of 95 per cent for every person in the Commonwealth. . . . The City of Chelsea has recently appointed a planning board.

The Back Yard Gardener By G. O. Oleson

We had a raising at our house this past week and the christening ceremonies were appropriately carried out. Don Ross officiated, but instead of the usual champagne bottle we had an egg nog, only we didn't waste the egg nog on the house. My chicks are eight weeks old now and they seem quite proud of their new house. At least the first night or two they wanted to stand around and admire it instead of going inside. I got the leaflet from the State College on summer range shelters, but decided, after due consideration, to design one of my own. So I took myself down to see Mr. Brown in the local furniture store and found two crates about 40 inches wide, 72 inches long, and 10 inches deep. I cut the depth to about one foot, so that when one was laid on top of the other I had a frame work that was two feet deep.

One crate forms the bottom section with roasts and 1-inch mesh wire underneath the roasts. By putting cleats on the top crate it will fit onto the bottom one without nailing. In the way I can take the range shelter apart and store it in the garage during the winter. The kids call it "rain" instead of "range", but I guess they are nearer the truth, because I don't have too much range. But the chicks seem happy about the whole thing.

I had some asphalt shingles left over when I shingled the garage and I used those for roofing. After the two crates were fitted together I put one-inch mesh wire around the whole thing with the exception of one end where I fixed a little door. It will be a very easy matter to tack on some cardboard or gunny sacks in order to provide extra warmth if needed.

The total cost was $1.63 for wire and 10 cents for the staples, and of course I suppose you'll have to count something for the shingles, so add 50 cents for those.

I got a big kick out of raising the chicks and caring for them. Nevertheless, I've almost come to the conclusion that for most back yard folks it would be a better idea to buy chicks when they are 8 or 10 weeks old. You pay the poultryman of course for raising them this far, but now they are past the critical stage and you would have much less work from now on.

Pullets which are 10 weeks old now will be laying in September and that's when egg prices are high and when you'll get the most return on your money. So if you've been thinking about producing a few chicks at home and some eggs next winter, there is still plenty of chance to get started. Incidentally I'll be having a broiler or two in a few more weeks.

Now just one thought in reference to the garden. Some folks constantly argue the point—Should we prune and stake tomatoes or let the mile on the ground? Staking has many advantages. It saves space in the garden. Cultivation is easier. Tomatoes are cleaner. They ripen earlier. You get better pest control. Tomatoes get more sunshine and hence are richer in vitamin C. I've always staked my tomatoes, but this year I'm going to try some both ways just for my own satisfaction.

Graduate From Colby

Two students from Northfield are members of the senior class at Colby College, Waterville, Me., which will hold graduation exercises on May 24. They are Laurie L. Harris and Gilbert Evans Potts.

Harris has been prominent in college as a member of the athletic teams, being on the varsity baseball, hockey, and track squads, and having played freshman football. He has majored in physics. He is also a member of Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity, of the Outing Club, and Chi Gamma Sigma. This winter he was captain of the champion L. C. A. bowling team.

Potts graduated from Mount Hermon School. He has majored in sociology, and has been on the Dean's list for two years. He was a member of the track and cross country teams for two years. As a freshman he received the Kling scholarship, and this year he held the Woodman grant. He is a member of the International Relations Club and the Library Associates.

To Aid War Drive

A portrait of General MacArthur with his promise of "I'll Do My Best" serves as the key poster in a war production drive program inaugurated by Fisher Body. Inscribed across the poster is the pledge of every worker on the production line to the man at the battle line: "Me Too, Mac." This poster has been erected as a permanent display in all Fisher Body plants.

By BETTY BARCLAY

If you have been out to see the parade, a buffet lunch will be enjoyed at home. If you are having your first picnic, unusual goodies will be appreciated. Here are some recipes that I am sure will interest you—for Memorial Day, or later.

Top-of-the Baked Limas

1 pound dried Limas
3 1/2 cups water
1 small onion
1/2 pound bacon squares
1/2 teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons brown sugar
1/2 teaspoon dry mustard
2 tablespoons dark molasses
3 tablespoons catsup

Soak Limas 6 to 8 hours; drain. Add remaining ingredients; simmer until Limas are tender, about two hours. The Limas have the flavor and appearance of being oven-baked. Serves 6 to 8.

Corned Beef and Liederkrans Cheese Sandwich

1 1/2 cups minced cooked corned beef
3 tablespoons horseradish
1 tablespoon mustard
6 slices bread
1 package Liederkrans cheese
Combine corned beef, horseradish and mustard. Spread on slices of bread. Cover with thin slices of Liederkrans cheese. Place in hot oven (400° F.) about 10 minutes until cheese is melted. Serve at once. Serves 6.

Peach Shortcakes

1 box (16 oz.) quick-frozen sliced peaches, thawed
4 hot shortcake biscuits, split and buttered
1/2 cup cream, whipped

Spread thawed peaches on lower halves of hot shortcake biscuits; top with upper halves and additional peaches. Garnish with whipped cream. Serves 4.

To make shortcake biscuits, sift together 1 1/2 cups cake flour, 1 1/2 teaspoons double-acting baking powder, and 1/4 teaspoon salt. Cut in 4 tablespoons butter or other shortening. Add 6 tablespoons milk and stir until mixture forms a soft dough. Turn out on slightly floured board and knead 30 seconds. Roll 1/4 inch thick and cut with floured 3-inch biscuit cutter. Place half of circles on ungreased baking sheet and brush with melted butter. Place remaining circles on top and butter well. Bake in hot oven (450° F.) 15 to 20 minutes.

Fruit Cake Rennet-Custard

1 package lemon rennet powder
1 pint milk, not canned
3 ordinary sized pieces of fruit cake
1/2 cup heavy cream, whipped

Crumble pieces of fruit cake in bottom of each of six dessert dishes. (Save 1/2 crumbs for garnish.) Make rennet-custards according to directions on package. Pour over fruit cake. Chill. When ready to serve, top each rennet-custard with whipped cream and garnish with crumbled cake.

Lemon Wafers
1 cup shortening
1 1/2 cups sugar
3 eggs
2 tablespoons lemon juice
1 teaspoon grated lemon peel
5 cups all-purpose flour
1/2 teaspoon salt

Cream shortening and sugar. Add beaten eggs, lemon juice and peel. Add flour and salt. Roll into long roll and wrap in waxed paper. Place in refrigerator. When firm, slice and bake at 425 degrees F. for 10 minutes or until delicately browned. Decorate with sugar, coconut, candied orange peel, nuts or raisins. Makes 7 to 8 dozen.

Maple Strawberry Ice Cream

(Automatic Refrigerator Method)

1/2 cup (7 1/2 oz. can) sweetened condensed milk
1/2 cup water
1 cup crushed strawberries
1/4 cup powdered sugar
1 cup whipping cream

Mix sweetened condensed milk and water. Add fruit, sweetened with sugar. (The average fruit requires about 1/4 cup sugar.) Chill. Whip cream to custard-like consistency. Fold into chilled mixture. Freeze in freezing unit of refrigerator until half frozen. Scrape from freezing tray. Beat until smooth but not melted. Replace in freezing unit until frozen. Serves 6.

Picnic Brew

When you serve coffee for a picnic crowd, it's a good idea to make the decaffeinated brew so that guests can indulge in second and third cups without worrying over sleeping problems.

Put one pound decaffeinated coffee, regular grind, in a cheesecloth or muslin bag, which is large enough to hold at least twice that amount. Drop bag into large kettle or boiler containing 2 gallons boiling water. Cover tightly, reduce heat so that coffee does not boil, and let stand 8 to 12 minutes. Plunge bag up and down in coffee several times, then remove bag from coffee. Keep coffee hot for service. Serves 40.
